

The young Nisei women of Troop 15 dress up as the celebrities, actors and in some cases, the pariahs of their time, for a skit in Heart Mountain, Wyoming. Why the skit took place has long been forgotten, but it was obviously fun for the girls of the troop, and reflects who was famous, or infamous during World War II. Takako Morita recalled that as she was dressing up as sexy movie star Mae West, "I didn't know who she was."
